PRESS RELEASE

Soft Skill Development Programme for Female Students Organized at Government Polytechnic Madhubani

Madhubani, 9 September 2026: The Training and Placement Cell, Government Polytechnic Madhubani is organizing a Soft Skill Development Programme from 8th to 15th September 2026 exclusively for all female students, under the leadership of Prof. Kumari Shambhavi (Training and Placement Officer, G.P. Madhubani), with the valuable support and guidance of Prof. Parashuram Mishra (Principal, G. P. Madhubani).

The programme focuses on developing communication skills, confidence, personality, teamwork, professional etiquette, interview skills and overall employability, helping students become better prepared for campus placements and the professional world. Two trainers from Mahindra Pride Naandi Foundation, Ms. Nisha Singh and Mr. Adarsh Ranjan, are conducting the sessions through interactive activities, practical exercises and confidence-building training.

This is a continuation of the successful Soft Skill Development Programme organized by the TPO Cell last year, which proved highly beneficial for students. The improvement in students' confidence and communication was subsequently reflected in campus placement drives, where they demonstrated greater confidence in aptitude tests, interviews, group discussions and recruiter interactions.

The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Prof. Master Rajeev, Prof. Diksha Ritesh, Prof. Sanjana Ranjan Sah, Prof. Divya Shanu, and Prof. Ankita Kumari Sinduria. The trainers were warmly welcomed with saplings, symbolizing growth, positivity and a sustainable future. The faculty members motivated the students to overcome hesitation, believe in their abilities and actively utilize every opportunity for personal and professional growth.

Prof. Parashuram Mishra (Principal, G. P. Madhubani) appreciated the initiative and emphasized that technical education must be complemented by communication, confidence, discipline and professional skills to prepare students for real-world challenges. Prof. Kumari Shambhavi (TPO) stated that the objective is to make students "not only technically skilled, but confident, communicative and industry-ready."

The programme marks a significant step towards women's empowerment and employability enhancement, reaffirming Government Polytechnic Madhubani's commitment to developing confident, skilled and placement-ready young women who are prepared not merely to seek jobs, but to build successful careers and emerge as future professionals and leaders.
